

THE SEED & THE MAP

Micro Fundamentals to Macro Vision

Companion Workbook to The Tree of the Earth

The Invisible Monastery

How to Use This Workbook

Every great creation begins with a seed that contains the full code. Most failed projects fail because the seed was never made pure. This workbook forces you to strip to the fundamentals, then expand from there without losing the original intelligence.

Section One: Stripping to the Bare Bones

Take your current primary project or creation. Answer these without fluff.

Prompt 1: In two sentences, what is the absolute core of what you are building?

Prompt 2: If you had to draw this on a napkin for a stranger, what would it look like? Describe it.

Prompt 3: What complexity have you added that is not required by the fundamentals?

Section Two: The Macro from the Micro

If the seed is true, the full tree already exists in potential. Your job is to give it conditions, not to invent new code.

Prompt 4: What are the three non-negotiable elements that must be present for this creation to be true to its seed?

1. _____ 2. _____ 3. _____

Prompt 5: What would this look like fully expressed (macro) if you stayed ruthlessly true to the micro fundamentals?

Vow of the Seed

I vow to never again build on a seed I have not personally verified as pure. Before I invest significant time or resources in any creation, I will be able to state its fundamentals simply and draw its essence. I will let the macro emerge from the micro, not the other way around.

Signature: _____ Date: _____

Section Three: The Calm of Knowing

When the fundamentals are sound, execution becomes calm. Panic is a symptom of a compromised seed.

Weekly Seed Check (use every Friday)

Current project: _____

Can I still state the fundamentals in two sentences? Yes / No

If no, what complexity crept in this week? _____

What will I strip or simplify next week? _____
